

WARRANTS FOR TWO POLICEMEN

Frauds on a Big Scale Reported in the Bureau of Boiler Inspection and One Arrest Is Already Made.

DEPUTY DAVIS IS PROBING.

Prisoner Held on a Charge of Obtaining a License by Fraud and Members of Force Said to Be Involved.

Frauds on a big scale are reported to have been discovered to-day in the Bureau of Boiler Inspection, which is a branch of the Police Department, with headquarters at No. 300 Mulberry street. One arrest has been made and warrants issued for the arrest of three others, two of whom are said to be policemen.

John Miller, of No. 1123 Intervale avenue, Bronx, was arrested and arraigned in the Centre Street Police Court on a warrant sworn out by Deputy Police Commissioner Gerard Davis, charging him with having obtained a license on June 23 to operate a steam boiler by falsely representing himself to be an engineer. He was held in $500 bail for further examination.

Shortly after Assistant District Attorney Kressel, with Mr. Davis, obtained the additional warrants.

PRINCE OF WALES IS COMING HERE.

King Edward Requests that He Be Named as Head of Royal Commission to St. Louis Fair.

LONDON, April 22.—The appointment of the Prince of Wales as President of the royal commission which is to represent Great Britain at the St. Louis Exposition will be made at the special request of King Edward, who thought he could thus best demonstrate his personal interest in the exhibition and his cordiality toward America generally. John Redmond, the Irish leader, was invited to be one of the two Irish members of the commission, but his many engagements necessitated a declination.

PLOT TO MURDER AUSTRIAN EMPEROR.

Arrest of Hungarian Soldier in Conspiracy to Kill Francis Joseph During Military Manoeuvres.

VIENNA, April 22.—The Post reports the arrest of a Hungarian soldier in connection with an alleged plot among Hungarian troops to murder Emperor Francis Joseph during the military manoeuvres.

"BIG TIM" SULLIVAN IS WITH MURPHY.

Has Had No Clash and Will Back the Tammany Leader in Choice of Candidates.

(Special to The Evening World.) ALBANY, April 22.—"I am for George D. McCollan for Mayor or any one else Charlie Murphy wants."

This statement is "Big Tim" Sullivan's answer to a story published in New York to-day that there was trouble between Sullivan and the Tammany leader.

"Big Tim" declares that their relations are most friendly.

KILLED BY FALL FROM NEW BRIDGE.

Thomas Quinlan Tumbles Off While at Work and Is Crushed to Death.

Thomas Quinlan, twenty-three years old, of No. 20 Morgan avenue, Brooklyn, while at work on the new East River Bridge at the foot of Delancey street lost his balance and fell to the street. He was killed instantly.

FOUR MORE VICTIMS CLAIMED

Bodies in Erie Wreck Identified by Articles Found Near Them.

SALAMANCA, N. Y., April 22.—The friends of Frank Barthele, of Medina, employed by a Jamestown house, who was on the Erie express which was wrecked at Red House, have identified a pair of cuff buttons as having belonged to him. The remains found near the place where the buttons lay have been placed to Medina.

TOO MANY HOLIDAYS.

Board of Trade and Transportation Protest Against Creating More.

The Board of Trade and Transportation passed resolutions to-day requesting Gov. Odell to withhold his approval from the bills introduced in the present session creating three more legal holidays. The resolution points out that the present eight full legal holidays are sufficient to burden the business of the State and that the creation of more holidays would be a waste of time and money.

MISS MORRISON ON HER HOSPITAL COT, AND BROKER FOR WHOM SHE TOOK POISON.

(Sketch made in St. Mary's Hospital by an Evening World Artist.)

TRAP IS SET BY STATE FOR CHIEF MAFIA SUSPECT.

It, a restaurant at No. 8 Prince street, and had two tenement-houses on leases. He said he was eleven years in this country and was a native of Carlesne, Sicily.

Marelo showed his catlike qualities when Mr. Garvan held up a photograph of the murdered man.

"I don't know that I know this man. If he is the man I think, he was named Donolo."

"Do you know this man?" asked Mr. Garvan through the interpreter, showing him the little photograph of Maduena which Detective Petrosini obtained from the convict De Prima in Sing Sing.

"I don't know if the picture and the supposed original are the same. They look alike. This may be Donolo."

"When did you see him last?"

"On the Saturday before I was arrested."

"When had you seen him before that?"

"Fourteen or fifteen months ago."

"Ever see him any other time?"

"Yes. The Saturday and Monday before I was arrested."

"How did you come to know him fourteen months ago?"

"He came into my restaurant. I understood he was a bricklayer."

"Have you ever written to him or received letters from him?"

"No. I only heard from him through a letter."

"How was that?"

"Ignazio Mesquale, of Pittsburg, wrote me that Donolo had written him, sending his regards to me."

OBJECTS TO RACKING THE WITNESS.

Mr. Garvan was proceeding to question Marelo about his movements on the days he saw Maduena, when Mr. Le Barbier, for the prisoner, interrupted. He claimed that the trick of the prosecution in making a suspect a witness for the State was too transparent. He said that the District Attorney was examining the witness inquisitorially with regard to the other prisoners, being prepared meanwhile when he was through with the witness to clap him into jail on another charge. He asked therefore that the Court regard the witness in the light of a quasi defendant and forbid the asking of questions which would elicit answers on which the witness might subsequently be held.

It was intimated that Molneux's long stay in prison was brought about by his being called as a witness for the State and made to furnish the District Attorney with specimens of his handwriting.

In the course of the examination Mr. Garvan sprang some of the secret evidence the police obtained in the search of Marelo's room. It was a letter written by Maduena, the murdered man, to Marelo.

Marelo would not identify the letter from the envelope. "The date ought to show when I got it," said Marelo, answering Mr. Garvan's question.

Benedetto's signature to the letter was shown him and he admitted having received it, but he would not say when. He declared it was the only letter he had received from Benedetto.

Mr. Garvan then put the letter back in his pocket and refused to offer it in evidence.

SINT TO THE HOUSE OF DETENTION.

When the prisoners were arraigned before Coroner Scholer Mr. Garvan asked that they be sent to the House of Detention.

Coroner Scholer set the inquest for next Monday and said he would send the men to the House of Detention until then. He agreed to take bail.

In the case of Vito Laduca, Mr. Garvan asked that bail be put at $5,000, as a knife, stained by human blood, had been found on him. Coroner Scholer set it at that sum as he did for Marelo, who, Mr. Garvan said, was seen with Maduena at 8 o'clock on the night before the murder.

The same amount was fixed against nearly all of the men as was fixed before, ranging from $2,000 bail to $200.

COL SPROLE SHOT AND KILLED HIMSELF.

Army Officer in the Philippines Was Considered Insane by His Friends.

MANILA, April 22.—Lieut.-Col. Henry W. Sprole, of the First Cavalry, shot himself in the head with a revolver at Taal, province of Batangas to-day, and died immediately afterward. His brother officers say he was temporarily insane.

Sprole was appointed to the Military Academy from New York in 1885.

Col. Sprole's brother is Samuel M. Sprole, principal of High School No. 3, President and Hoyt streets, Brooklyn. Upon hearing of his brother's tragic death he broke out in fierce invective against the War Department. "The War Department killed him," was his comment given out before hysterical sobs. "The War Department kept my brother on the Rio Grande for twelve years, where he nearly died from fever. Then they shifted him to the Red River, then to Cuba and then to Manila. He was a lover of his country. This is his reward!"

LIKE WESTERN ROAD AGENTS.

Five Men Rob a Cattle Dealer at Pisto's Point on White Plains Road.

Louis Berson, a cattle dealer of Mount Vernon, was held up at the point of a pistol and robbed by five men at 5 P. M. yesterday at the White Plains road entrance to Bronx Park, while he was on his way to a brewery for cattle feed. The thieves got $50 in cash and a gold watch and chain.

The cattle dealer reported the occurrence at the Wakefield police station, and Detectives were sent out who arrested James Dlorio, twenty-two years old, of No. 45 East One Hundred and Fifty-first street; Felix Dlorio, nineteen years old, of 475 East One Hundred and Fifty-first street; Joseph Dileppi, twenty-one years old, of No. 48 First street, Highbridge; Martin Lowry, twenty-five years old, of One Hundred and Anthony Rippo, of the same address. These men left the Highbridge address in a body a short time before the robbery was committed, and this led to their being suspected. Rippo is the robbery of two hampsters with the prisoners were held without bail by Magistrate Hogan in Morrisania Court for examination to-morrow.

HORACE A. BLACKMUR, JR. THERE IS HOPE FOR H. H. ROGERS.

Standard Oil Magnate's Condition Encourages His Physicians.

H. H. Rogers, multi-millionaire and director of the Standard Oil Company, who was operated on for appendicitis, showed marked improvement to-day and the physicians who are watching at his bedside are hopeful of his ultimate recovery. Dr. Andrew McCosh, the chief physician in attendance, said to-day that Mr. Rogers had passed a restful night and seemed much stronger than he had been at any time since the operation. "Mr. Rogers is still in a dangerous condition," said Dr. McCosh, "and it will be some days before we can pronounce him out of danger. However, if he continues to rally in the way he has done during the past twenty-four hours I have every reason to believe he will pull through." Dr. McCosh called at the house at 10 o'clock. When he came out he said: "I think that it is now only a question of a few days before Mr. Rogers will be a well man again."

FAIR HEARING GOES ON.

One Witness Takes Up Whole Session and Trial Is Adjourned.

The hearing on the contest for the Fair estate was continued to-day before Judge Justice Koenig as referee. Alfred Jules Moranne was still on the stand, and F. B. Candler, of William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Mrs. Hermann Geiriche, sisters of Mr. Fair, proceeded with his cross-examination. The witness for several hearings has been subjected to a severe cross-examination as to his movements some days prior to the accident on Aug. 14, 1902, in which Mr. and Mrs. Fair were killed. This line of questioning was continued to-day until an adjournment was taken till 3 o'clock to-morrow.

TRIED TO DIE WITH CHILDREN.

Mother, Gas Tube in Mouth, and Three Little Girls Found Unconscious in the Street.

Frederick Arnold was awakened in his home at No. 68 East One Hundred and Sixty-first street before daylight to-day by a strong odor of gas. On going into the next room he found his wife Louisa, forty-four years old, unconscious and breathing gas from a tube which extended from her mouth to the gas jet. Their three children—Carrie, nine years old; Ethel, seven, and Elinor, three—were also unconscious. Turning off the gas Arnold raised the windows and shouted for the neighbors. The neighbors carried the children and the mother out to the street, and they were treated by an ambulance surgeon from Lebanon Hospital. The children were revived, but Mrs. Arnold was in a serious condition and was taken to the hospital. She had been sick a long time and despondent. The woman is held a prisoner by the police on a charge of attempting to commit suicide. Neighbors say she drank heavily, and that the children often had nothing to eat.

CLARK BELL GETS AN UGLY FALL.

Slips on Marble Steps at Turkish Bath, but Escapes with a Few Bruises.

It is learned to-day at the Hollander's Baths, in One Hundred and Twenty-third street, that Clark Bell, the lawyer, who had a bad fall last night after slipping on the marble steps, was not seriously hurt and left the baths shortly after the accident. Mr. Bell, who is President of the Medico-Legal Society, went to the place accompanied by Fred Hotchkiss, the Connecticut automobile manufacturer whose wife is endeavoring to have him adjudged insane. After a plunge and a rub down they started to climb a steep flight of marble stairs. Bell had hardly reached the fourth step when he slipped and fell back heavily, bruising his arms and back. The injuries were slight, and he left the building a few hours later. Mr. Hotchkiss lives at Hollander's Baths and is conducting a fight in this city against his wife's action to have him adjudged incompetent.

MAY BE CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Two Men Arrested for Highway Robbery—Victim Is Thought to Be Dying.

Police Capt. Gallagher, of the East Twenty-second street station, who has been investigating the assault and robbery of William Haughton, a bricklayer, of No. 227 East Twenty-second street, arraigned two men before Magistrate Zeller to-day and asked that they be held pending the result of Haughton's injuries. The bricklayer is said to be dying in Bellevue Hospital. As Haughton was passing Twenty-sixth street and Third avenue early Sunday morning he was set upon by two thugs and beaten into insensibility and robbed. Yesterday he became unconscious again and was taken to the hospital. Capt. Gallagher, who has been working on the case since the assault, arrested Emil Neppel, twenty-three years old, of No. 307 Third avenue, and Richard Tamplin, twenty-eight years old, of No. 331 East Twenty-eighth street. When arraigned both pleaded nolo contendere. They were remanded for forty-eight hours without bail.
